A teacher who was seriously injured in a Mexico van wreck in late May has died.

Missy Jones, a former educator in the Little Cypress-Mauriceville school district, was one of 10 area educators and two students who visited Mexico for an educational trip and cultural exchange.

Jones sustained severe head trauma and two broken legs after the van she was in went off a cliff in Mexico.

Dorothy Gray, an employee with the Region 5 Education Service Center, and Denise Wenzel, a Marshall Middle School teacher, died in the wreck.

No information on funeral arrangements has been released.â â â â â
