

RIVIERA MAYA NEWS

RIVIERA MAYA'S ENGLISH
NEWS SOURCE

DELL OPTIPLEX 3020 MINI TOWE

$599.00 ~~$855.72~~ Dell

INTERNATIONAL

MEXICO

TECH SCIENCE

FINANCIAL

HEALTH

POLITICAL

SPORTS

LIFESTYLE

PEOPLE

TRAVEL

RIVIERA MAYA EVENTS

HOT TOPICS

MARCH 26, 2016 | WITH 100 PERCENT OCCUPANCY RATE

SEARCH ...

HOME

MEXICO

CANCUN

HEALTH

American woman dies after fatal fall

Scientists prove property in jalpeno

CUSTOM BANNE

$22.49 Vistaprint

POSTED BY: RAÚL ALGAZA MARCH 26, 2016

Cancun, Q.R. — An American woman has died due to a fatal fall from a second story building.

The accident occurred on the island of Isla Mujeres when the woman accidentally fell from a second story patio. The injured woman was rushed to the General Hospital in Cancun where she died several hours after being admitted.

Hospital staff said the woman was rushed to the hospital at approximately 4:00 a.m. aboard a QR11 Red Cross unit on Thursday where she passed away at 10:50 p.m the same day. The deceased is 32-year-old Destiny Moore of Beaumont, Texas.

According to the police report, the woman had toxic levels of alcohol in her system and failed to stabilize in the hospital. An investigation into the facts leading up to her death is still under way.

Like

G+1

Share

Cancun custom agents successful at filtering drug traffickers

October 8, 2015
In "Cancun"

American man detained in Cancun for death of girlfriend

March 7, 2016
In "Cancun"

Tourist suffers broken bones due to inexperienced paratrooper

December 29, 2015
In "Mexico"

peppers kills cancer cells

A group of UK scientists have discovered that spicy foods can kill cancer cells. The scientists found that capsaicin, a property in jalapeno peppers, can kill cancer...

READ MORE

◀ Previous post

Next post ▶