A local businessman, chef and friend of ours here at KPVI is dead after falling from a balcony in Mexico.

Friends of Rob Wiscombe confirmed his death Tuesday afternoon, saying he was attending his daughter's wedding in Mexico when the accident happened.

Very few details are being released about the incident as family members work with the authorities there.

Rob joined Matt Davenport and Libby Wood on KPVI More just last week to talk about Mother's Day brunch at Cafe Tuscano where he worked as an Executive Chef. Many remember his tableside manner when he was the chef at the Continental Bistro in Old Town Pocatello.

Bill Isley, Co-Owner of Café Tuscano, says no formal plans have been made yet to memorialize Wiscombe as they wait to hear from family members regarding the funeral services. Isley did say that plans will be made once more information about those services is available.
